Navigate the menus using these controls:

Quake III: Revolution offers 6 controller types. These are the basic commands using the STANDARD CONTROL, the default configuration of the DUALSHOCK™2 analog controller.

Note: All instructions in this manual assume the default controller type has been selected.

INTRODUCTION

Long ago, the mysterious Vadrigar constructed the Arena Eternal, an extra-dimensional coliseum where they could entertain themselves by watching the chaos and destruction of battle. They filled the Arena with the greatest warriors in the galaxy and looked on as the fragging commenced.

Once the Vadrigar had recruited the finest the galaxy had to offer, they were not inclined to be cheated of their favorite sport by a little thing like death. Those who fell were therefore instantly restored to life and immediately thrust back into the battle.

Now, five surviving warriors from the Arena Eternal embark on a series of new challenges laid down by the Vadrigar. Little do the Arena Masters realize that, during their captivity, these gladiators have become strong, honing their skills to the point where they are ready to take on their captors in one last battle...a fight for freedom!

SETTING UP THE GAME

Main Menu

From the Main Menu you can begin a new single player Campaign, continue a Campaign you have already started, take part in a multiplayer challenge and adjust game options including video, audio, and controller preferences.

- To select an option, press the directional button UP/DOWN and press the X button.

New Campaign

Press the directional button UP/DOWN to highlight NEW CAMPAIGN in the Main Menu, then press the X button to start a single player Campaign. See Campaign (Single Player) on p. 9.

Continue Campaign

Highlight CONTINUE CAMPAIGN in the Main Menu and press the X button to load a previously saved Campaign from your Memory Card (PS2). See Loading a Saved Campaign on p. 27.

Arena

Press the directional button UP/DOWN to highlight ARENA in the Main Menu and press the X button to start a multiplayer game. See Arena (Multiplayer) on p. 17.

Options

Highlight OPTIONS in the Main Menu and press the X button in order to adjust video, audio, and controller preferences. You can also save your preferences to a Memory Card (PS2). See Options on p. 15.

GAME SCREEN

Would-be gladiators should pay attention to the information displayed on the game screen - it could make the difference between staying alive and becoming another arena statistic.

Note: On-screen information differs depending upon the challenge (i.e. a Possession game screen indicates how long you have held the flag and who is currently in possession of it, while team challenges display team scores).

Note: The existence and location of game screen information varies, depending on the number of players taking part. Descriptions in this manual assume a 1-player game is being played.

Health Level

The Arena's a dangerous place—do not underestimate it! Even the best are going to get hurt or even fragged when pitched into battle so it is vital that you keep an eye on your health level, which is displayed in the bottom left-hand corner of the screen. Throughout the arenas, it is possible to increase your health beyond your character's current maximum value, although the level counts back down to the current maximum when this occurs (see Health on p. 23).

Armor Level

Wearing armor reduces the inevitable decrease in your gladiator's health level when attacked by an enemy. Your current armor rating is displayed to the left of your health level. You can pick up items and power-ups that allow you to temporarily increase it beyond your character's current maximum level, although, as with Health, whenever your armor rating is above the maximum, it counts down gradually until it reaches that mark, even if you aren't under attack (see Armor on p. 23).

Weapons and Power-Ups

The weapon and/or power-up currently in use are represented on-screen by icons.

Amount of ammo remaining for current weapon

Weapon currently in use

Note: When you run out of ammo for your current weapon, you automatically transfer to the next weapon in your arsenal.

- For more information on available weapons, see Weapons on p. 21.

- For more information on available power-ups, see Power-Ups on p. 24.

Selecting Weapons

To cycle forward through the weapons you have picked up, press the ● button.

Other Game Screen Information

Basic on-screen information also indicates how much time there is left until the limit imposed by the Vardrigar is reached, your total frags and your current position in the challenge.

In-Game Options Menu

You can pause the game by pressing the START button. From the in-game Options menu you can choose the following options:

CONTINUE: Return to the current game.

CONTROLLER SETUP: Allows you to adjust selected controller settings (see Default Controller on p. 16).

AUDIO SETUP: Allows you to change selected audio preferences (see Audio Setup on p. 16).

RESTART: Begin the current game again.

QUIT: End the current game.

Note: In multiplayer team challenges with 2-4 players, the in-game Options menu also gives you the opportunity to change teams.

CAMPAIGN (SINGLE PLAYER)

Campaign mode allows you to challenge Arena combatants in a quest for freedom. In single-player mode, Quake III Revolution is split into five tiers of five arenas each. In order to progress to the next tier, you have to reign victorious in all five of the previous tier's arenas—finishing second is simply not good enough. Once you have mastered all five tiers, you have earned the right to challenge the Vardrigar.

Starting a New Campaign

To start a new Campaign:

1. Highlight NEW CAMPAIGN in the Main Menu and press the ✕ button to access the Select Difficulty screen.
2. Press the directional button LEFT/RIGHT to select a level of difficulty for the Campaign and press the ✕ button. The Select Character screen appears.
3. Press the directional button LEFT/RIGHT to choose which of the five gladiators you wish to control - their stats are displayed on-screen - and press the ✕ button. The Select Arena screen appears.
  - Press the ■ button to access the Edit Player screen. Here you can edit your player name, choose a crosshair style and select controller preferences. After selecting your preferences, press the ▲ button to return to the Select player screen (see Edit Player Screen on p. 12).
4. Press the directional button LEFT/RIGHT to select a challenge from those available to you and press the ✕ button to start a game.

Note: Default settings appear in bold in this manual.

Difficulty Levels

You can select 1 of 5 difficulty levels. I CAN WIN is ideal for new recruits to the Arena Eternal but it is advisable that only hardened warriors take on the NIGHTMARE level. The default level is BRING IT ON.

Note: The difficulty level cannot be changed without starting a New Campaign.

Characters

Selected character's attributes

Selected character

Select to edit character name and change crosshair and controller preferences

You can select any of the following five gladiators: SARGE, ANARKI, DOOM, DAEMIA and KLESK. Each of these warriors has their own individual attributes. These attributes are represented in the game as additional health or armor points, or as increased speed and weapon damage. Choose one of them, depending on which abilities you think are most likely to get you through the arenas:

Sarge (Human)

Strengths: Max Health

Weaknesses: Speed

An experienced combat veteran, Sarge is equally adept with all the weapons the Arena Eternal has to offer. He favors the Rocket Launcher but has a special affection for the Shotgun since close combat means he can smell his opponent's fear. Part drill sergeant, part fragging machine, Sarge's professional pride rarely allows him to retreat. Wily, determined and deadly, he respects worthy opponents...but that won't stop him from fragging them!

Anarki (Cybronic Human)

Strengths: Max Health, Speed

Weaknesses: Attack Power

One of the youngest combatants in the Arena Eternal, Anarki made his name in the Random Access gang. A real showman in the arena, he has been robbed of his own personality and memories by constant downloads of cybronic software to such an extent that he now has trouble distinguishing between virtual and real worlds. Always seeking an edge, Anarki will go through anything and anyone to get to power-ups and his favorite weapon, the Shotgun.

Doom (Human)

Strengths: Max Armor

Weaknesses: Speed

Doom remained on Phobos long after his comrades had fallen, defiantly attempting to send a message to his home planet, Earth. When the rescue team reached the battle zone, they found no sign of life - the Vadrigar had already claimed him. Less of a team player now, he relies upon his vast combat experience in off-world colonies to see him through the deadly challenges of the Arena Eternal. He patrols the arenas with his weapon of choice, the Railgun, stalking other combatants and biding his time before picking off any gladiator unlucky enough to end up in his crosshairs.

Daemia (Human)

Strengths: Max Health

Weaknesses: Max Armor

An accomplished bounty hunter, Daemia has seen it, done it, fragged it. Killing has become second nature to her and the thrill of the chase has become as fulfilling as the reward. Her agility makes her a tricky target in the arena and her weapons skills and fondness for the Shotgun, Rocket Launcher and Grenade Launcher make her a match for any of the Arena's long-term residents. Although there's no longer money on offer for her work, she still takes great pride in her art.

Klesk (Alien Chitinid)

Main Strength: Attack Power

Main Weakness: Max Health

Although aggressive when holding the advantage on an opponent, Klesk is prone to hasty retreats when the going gets tough. He uses his fragmented language, conveyed by inhuman screeches, as a disorienting influence on opponents. A great advocate of both the Plasma Gun and Railgun, Klesk's hive mentality means opponents not only have to beat him, they have to overcome his whole race.

Level Awards

Medals

Medals measure and reward outstanding combat performance. You can view all the medals awarded to you since the game began in the Awards screen.

Frag: Awarded every time you reach 100 frags.

Impressive: Awarded for achieving two consecutive hits with a Railgun.

Gauntlet: Awarded every time you frag someone using the Gauntlet.

Excellent: Awarded for making two frags in two seconds.

Accuracy: Awarded when your hits-to-shots ratio is above 50%.

Perfect: Awarded for a victory in an arena when you have not been fragged yourself.

Items

When you have completed a level, if you have earned the required medals (displayed on the Select Arena screen before you start), you are awarded gifts including power-ups, armor and weapons. You will begin the next arena with the items you were awarded after the previous battle. The better you have performed in the level, the bigger the reward, so make sure you're on form.

Tier Awards

Personal Attributes

Every time you complete a tier, you are rewarded with upgrades to your character's Max Health, Max Armor, Attack Power and Speed, depending on how you have performed. With these increases, your character's appearance is also transformed.

Rank

Every time you complete a tier, your rank is increased. You begin your Campaign as a lowly Slave but each success promotes you to a new status: Freeman, Warrior, Warlord and, finally, Lord of Battle.

Single Player Challenge Modes

DEATHMATCH: It's the nearest thing to chaos in the arena as players blast everything that breathes to get the most kills, while suffering the least deaths. The winner is the first to achieve the target number of frags.

KILLS VS. TIME: A variation of Deathmatch, Kills Vs. Time places more emphasis on speed, allowing a significantly reduced amount of time in which to kill your quota of bad guys.

Unlike Deathmatch, you must kill a set number of opponents to win.

POSSESSION: As the name suggests, this challenge is all about how long a player can remain in possession of an object (a flag) while the rest of the combatants hunt them down. The player who successfully holds onto the flag for a predetermined period of time is the winner.

ONE FLAG CAPTURE THE FLAG: Grab the neutral (white) flag and bring it back to your base (red flag)...while being hunted by a pack of bloodthirsty gladiators whose single aim is to get in your way. Reach the required number of flag captures to win.

ELIMINATION: In this end-of-tier challenge, you must fight the finest opponents from the tier. This time, however, both you and your computer opponents have a limited number of lives. When you have killed one of them for the final time they are replaced by a new, more formidable opponent until all enemies have been eliminated. To emerge victorious, all opponents must be killed before you lose all of your own lives.

SKIRMISH: The Skirmish form of Elimination is identical to Elimination except that each opponent (or group of opponents) must be fought in a different arena.

OPTIONS

The Options screen allows you to adjust video, audio, and controller preferences and save the new settings to a Memory Card (PS2).

NAME	FRAGS	DEATHS	POINTS	GAMES	RATING
DELTA	15	10	150	10	1.5
SODGOLORY	10	10	100	10	1.0
PLAYER1	10	10	100	10	1.0
KAREO	10	10	100	10	1.0
KAPO	10	10	100	10	1.0
HON	10	10	100	10	1.0

League Screen

The League screen displays each player in the League (up to a maximum of 8), their name, total frags, deaths, number of games played, total points and rating (average points per game played).

New members can be entered automatically into the League table until it reaches its maximum capacity of 8 players. When the League is full, new players are asked if they would like to replace a current entry in the table. To do this:

1. Press the directional button LEFT/RIGHT to highlight YES and press the X button.
2. Press the directional button UP/DOWN to highlight the character you wish to delete and press the X button to confirm. The character is replaced with the new player.

Members can also be deleted at any time, even if the League table isn't full (see To delete a member from the League table on p. 20).

To delete a member from the League table:

1. Press the ● button.
2. Press the directional button UP/DOWN to highlight the player you wish to delete and press the ✕ button.
3. Press the directional button LEFT/RIGHT to highlight YES to confirm that you wish to delete the player from the League and press the ✕ button once more. The member is deleted from the table.

Note: The League table is updated according to player names. Therefore, if you change the name of your character, new scores are not added to that character's earlier name in the league. Similarly, it is also not advisable for players to repeat another player's name.

Note: The table is only updated when 2 or more players are playing a multiplayer game.

Multiplayer Game Modes

The following game types are available in multiplayer mode:

DEATHMATCH: As with Campaign mode Deathmatch, the aim is to reach a certain number of frags as quickly as possible. There are no alliances - they are all viable targets.

TEAM DEATHMATCH: In Team Deathmatch, two teams of players look to inflict more frags on their foes than they suffer themselves. The aim is the same as Deathmatch, only in teams. The team total is the all-important score, so make sure you have no weak links.

SINGLE WEAPON DEATHMATCH: The rules are the same as in Deathmatch but only one type of weapon is available to all players, so make sure you've mastered the weapon before entering the arena. All combatants start the challenge with the chosen weapon and must find ammo in the arena or on the bodies of the fragged opponents.

SINGLE WEAPON TEAM DEATHMATCH: The rules are the same as Team Deathmatch but, as in Single Weapon Deathmatch, only one type of weapon is available to all players.

1 FLAG CAPTURE THE FLAG: Similar to the single player version, this game is won by capturing a neutral flag - the subtle difference being that, unlike in Campaign mode, you have to carry it to your enemy's base to score, while they try and do the same to you. The first team to achieve this goal a set amount of times wins the challenge.

CAPTURE THE FLAG: In this version of Capture the Flag, Red and Blue teams each have a flag color and a home base. The game is won by the team that carries the opposing team's flag back to its base the most times. However, in order to score, a team's own flag must be present at the base when the enemy's flag is brought back.

TEAM POSSESSION: Identical to Possession mode but played in teams.

POSSESSION: Multiplayer Possession is identical to Campaign mode Possession - the winner is the first player to hold the flag for a predetermined amount of time.

Weapons

The Arena Eternal offers a vast array of weapons to its inhabitants. At the start of every match (or when respawning) all gladiators are usually armed only with a Machine Gun and Gauntlet. However, each arena has its own unique armory of weapons. Ammo for these weapons can be collected, like weapons, by walking over it.

GAUNTLET: The Gauntlet's saw blade and powerful electrical charge has got many a gladiator out of a compromising position. A lethal hand-to-hand combat weapon, it needs no ammunition and can create an enormous amount of carnage...if you can actually get close enough to anyone!

MACHINE GUN: The Machine Gun's high rate of fire can blanket an area with a hail of hot lead. Although not the most powerful weapon in the Arena, it can be used effectively to protect a newly-spawned combatant. Its usefulness should not be underestimated, but only a player with a crack shot and nerves of steel can fully utilize its capabilities.

CHAINGUN: With its astounding rate of fire, the Chaingun makes the Machine Gun look like a popgun. This welcome addition to any fragger's arsenal will cut your opponents in two with high-velocity rounds, if they give you half a chance!

SHOTGUN: The Shotgun delivers a savage spray of lead shot, which makes it a deadly firearm at close range. However, its effectiveness is greatly reduced over long distances. Remember that reloading between rounds takes a few moments - so make that first shot count!

NAIL GUN: Most effective in close combat, the Nail Gun unleashes a cluster of nails at its prey.

PLASMA GUN: The plasma pulses discharged by this powerful weapon can cause an obscene amount of damage. A handy weapon at close- or medium-range, it should be used sparingly as its energy supply is rapidly used up.

GRENADE LAUNCHER: The wide blast radius of the time-fused grenades fired by the Grenade Launcher is suited to disposing of multiple opponents. Used at medium-range, the Grenade Launcher can lay down a terrifying trail of devastation - just look out for rebounds!

PROXIMITY MINE LAUNCHER: The mines launched by this serious piece of hardware are programmed to detonate when a luckless gladiator is nearby. Triggered by movement and able to attach to any surface, they are ideal for slowing pursuers. Make sure you have another escape route though or you could be on the receiving end of their destructive power!

ROCKET LAUNCHER: The Rocket Launcher's ability to cause widespread devastation over long distances makes it an invaluable Arena weapon. It can also be used over shorter distances but be careful when using in confined spaces - it's all too easy to find yourself part of the devastation!

LIGHTNING GUN: The Lightning Gun discharges a powerful bolt of electricity at anyone unlucky enough to cross its path. Although only effective at short range, it has a devastating effect on its targets.

RAILGUN: This essentially long-range weapon fires a depleted uranium slug at incredible velocity towards its target. However, in producing the propulsion to do this, it is necessary for the Railgun to recharge between shots, thus causing a delay before it can be fired again.

BFG-10K: A close relation of the Plasma Gun, the BFG-10K is the most desired weapon in the Arena. Useful at any range, this beast of a firearm throws powerful bursts of plasma at unwitting gladiators. Requiring limited accuracy, its blast can wipe out a whole posse of enemies.

Armor

There are three types of armor in the Arena Eternal. Unless you have previously been awarded some, you will enter the arena without any protection...so you'll have to start searching.

HEAVY ARMOR: Picking up a suit of red Heavy Armor improves your armor rating by 100 points.

ARMOR: Wearing a yellow Armor vest adds 50 points to your armor rating.

ARMOR SHARDS: These armor fragments increase your armor rating by 5 points.

Note: Picking up armor can increase your armor rating to above its current maximum value (up to your character's overall maximum), but it will always count down to the current maximum.

Health

Health bonuses are dotted throughout most arenas. You can replenish your health by walking over these cross-shaped items.

GOLD: A gold cross adds 50 points to your health, increasing it up to your character's current maximum rating.

YELLOW: Yellow crosses add 25 points to your health, increasing it up to your character's current maximum rating.

GREEN: Every green cross you pick up adds 5 points to your health (even beyond your current maximum).

Flags

RED/BLUE FLAG: These colored flags are located at the Red and Blue team bases at the start of Capture the Flag events.

NEUTRAL FLAG: White flag that is used in Possession and 1 Flag Capture the Flag challenges.

Power-Ups

Power-ups are items that temporarily give you an advantage in the arena. They take effect as soon as you pick them up but their benefits remain for only a short period of time (displayed on-screen). They cannot be saved or recharged.

BATTLE SUIT: This golden force-field cancels out damage from natural hazards such as lava, slime and water as well as splash damage from weapons.

DOUBLE DAMAGE: When you scoop a Double Damage power-up, the damage inflicted by your weapons is multiplied for a brief period of time.

QUAD DAMAGE: When you pick up a Quad Damage power-up, your weapons cause four times as much damage as they do under normal circumstances - but only for a short period of time.

HASTE: Haste greatly increases your movement speed and rate of fire - perfect for getting out of compromising situations.

DOUBLE HASTE: Twice as powerful as Haste, Double Haste further increases the gladiator's speed of movement and firing rate.

INVISIBILITY: Any gladiator that picks up this unit immediately becomes almost impossible to see. Their presence can, however, be given away by weapon flashes.

MEGAHEALTH: Picking up a Megahealth power-up increases your health level by 100 points (even beyond your current maximum).

REGENERATION: After scooping a Regeneration power-up, your health gradually increases until it reaches your character's overall maximum or the effect ceases.

Carried Items

Gladiators can pick up carried items and retain them until they need to use them. However, they can only carry one at a time, so before they can pick up another they have to use their current item. When triggered, their effect is immediate.

MEDKIT: When triggered, the Medkit ascertains a gladiator's injuries and restores them to full health.

PERSONAL TELEPORTER: A Personal Teleporter instantly transports its user to a random point in the arena.

INVULNERABILITY: As its name suggests, activating this makes the owner impervious to anything the other combatants - or nature - can throw at them, for a brief period of time.

KAMIKAZE: You'll need more than a Medkit to heal the after-effects of this Armageddon-style weapon. Detonating it annihilates everyone - man, woman and alien - in the arena, including you, of course!
